A CENSUS JOB.

When the bill to authorize the taking of the tenth census was up before Congress a pressure was brought to bear upon the members by the Census Bureau officials which resulted in the incorporation into the bill of a clause authorizing any State or Territory that desired so to do, to make another census enumeration in 1895, and that the General Government would pay half the expense. The scheme originated in Washington and ought to be understood as its real intent, which is nothing more or less than a plan to perpetrate the census officials of 1890 in office and make the Bureau a permanent fixture and tax on the people. A dispatch from Washington says "that several States have already signified their desire to take advantage of the Act, but it will be necessary to have the law amended in order to render the scheme possible, as the existing legislation does not cover the ground." If there are any States that desire a census in 1895 there is no law to prohibit them from taking it at their own expense. There never should be a law to compel other States that are satisfied with a Federal census every ten years to help pay the costs of a census in States that want one every five years. The scheme is not only a job to take money out of the National Treasury, but to rob the States and foster some two or three thousand more ravenous official parasites on the Federal Government. "The scheme," says the telegram, "is favored by the census officials, who have a strong desire to perpetuate themselves in office." No honest member of Congress should have anything to do with this job. An enumeration every ten years answers all the purposes, so far as the States are concerned. There might be some propriety in a law of Congress empowering the President to order the taking of the census of a Territory on the application of its Governor and Legislature when there is reason to believe that such Territory has more than sufficient population to entitle it to a representative in Congress. This would operate to the advantage of the several Territories. But the Census Bureau schemers will find that this job to abstract money out of the National and State Treasuries won't take with the people. All such swindling operations should be stamped out at once, and any attempt to amend the defective law should be hissed out of the halls of Congress.

BUTTERMILK RAGE.

The newest rage in the way of drinks, says the New York Herald, will not cause any one to go home in an irresponsible condition or to be arrested and clubbed for trying to take up the whole width of the sidewalk; for it is buttermilk—a fluid that, unlike sweet milk, does not lend itself to alcoholic decoctions, but must be taken straight or not at all. It is now kept on tap at many Philadelphia bars, as well as at a few in New York; and as its cost is not much greater than that of clear water the honest rum-seller would rather sell it than whisky. It has long been reputed a health-giving drink, meandering beneficently among the vital organs about as isothermal lines were said to do in Alaska in President Johnson's time. It contains no fuel oil, no headaches, no fights; a man may drink "buttermilk straight" from sunset to daylight without being tempted to thrash his best friend or lend money to his worst enemy. It corrupts no revenue officers, fills no suicides' graves, prompts no extensions of bonding periods, makes no excises muddle or prohibition tickets. Even if it is proved to have no good physical effects, its negative virtues counterbalance the benefits of all strong liquors. So hurrah for buttermilk, and may the dairies be equal to the demand!

THE PENSION FRAUDS.

The San Francisco Exchange says: "The enormous sum that Congress has seen fit to appropriate to the payment of pensions has caused no little criticism by the press all over the country, and to some extent this criticism was justified, not particularly on account of the amount appropriated, but because of the lax provisions of the Arraignment bill, which have opened the door to the avalanche of fraud, deceit, bribery and perjury. While but a few instances have been brought to light and punished, despite the constant watchfulness of the Pension Office, it is known that these fraudulent crimes against the Government are multiplied day after day. By combination and collusion it is safe to say that one-quarter of this vast amount of money will be directed through channels opened into the Treasury by rank perjury in the establishment of that 'disability' which entitles the claimant to compensation under the Arraignment bill. Men with no other disability than an ingrowing toenail may, under these loose laws, pounce upon the Pension Fund and make off with money enough to set themselves up in comfortable business."

Judge Black submitted to a severe surgical operation a day or two before his death. When coming back to consciousness from the effect of the anesthetic which had been administered, his first words were: "Now I will proceed to answer the criticisms of Mr. Jefferson Davis."

Paris suffers from adulterated wines, like the rest of us. Out of 3,361 specimens of wines submitted the other day to analysis, only 357 were pronounced good.

The Trial of Frank James, the Outlaw.

PRETTY STRONG EVIDENCE TO PROVE AN ALIBI.

A Remarkable Railroad Accident in Texas.

ANOTHER BEAR MOVEMENT IN WALL STREET.

A Murder, Fire, Suicide, Hanging and Circus Tragedy.

(SPECIAL TO THE SENTINEL.)

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 27.—A Gallatin special says Frank James' trial was resumed this morning. Mrs. Samuels, mother of Frank James, was sworn to the defense, after which Dick Liddell was cross-examined. It has leaked out that the defense will endeavor to prove an alibi. Gen. Joe Shelby being their principal witness, and further that the Winston group consists of five men, but that Jim Cummings was the fifth man. Frank James in the cross-examination said the arrangement to come to Missouri was perfected at Bob Hall's house in Tennessee. Frank James was not present. The defense laid great stress on this point. Witness then narrated his trip which terminated in the Winston robbery. His direct testimony was unshaken. Liddell was asked if, in company with Jesse James, Wood Hite and Jim Cummins, he did not meet Gen. Joe Shelby in a lane near Shelby's house just after the Winston robbery, and Shelby said to Jesse: "If thought you were dead." Jesse replied: "You are not." "Where is Frank?" asked the General. "His health is so bad that he has been south several years," replied Jesse, and did not witness say he had not seen Frank James for two years. Witness answered he had not seen Gen. Shelby since the robbery until he met him in Kansas City last Thursday. Witness further denied that he had told several other persons Frank James was not in the Winston robbery. Witness related his negotiations with the Governor to surrender and his willingness to reveal the secrets of the gang.

Judge Lynch on Utah.

PARK CITY, Aug. 27.—Last night's number of masked men stopped engineer Thomas, roadmaster Hughes and a fireman in the employ of the Utah Eastern Railroad, and compelled them to return to the shops and take an engine and caboose and run about 30 miles to Coalville, 20 miles distant. Leaving a number of men in charge of the train, the vigilantes proceeded to the County Jail, and bringing their guns to bear on the officers they obtained control of the jail, and taking a man named Jack Murphy from his cell they returned to the train and ordered an immediate return to Park City. Upon arriving here the vigilantes took Murphy to a strange place near the station and hanged him, the body being viewed by a number of passengers on an early train. Murphy was arrested on suspicion of having shot Brennan last Wednesday.
